The result is a cornucopia of information that is fascinating, inspiring and wonderfully accessible.

Ketchup Soup-James Houck 2011-07-08 A roaring, rollicking, foot-stomping farce. Ketchup Soup is an epic, and at times ribald, comedy about the lovable James Reichardt, a verbose junior copywriter who's just landed his first job at a sleepy advertising agency in New Orleans. Part genius, part naive miscreant, James suffers from illusions of grandeur, not the least of which are the beliefs that business is the key to happiness and that he is Caesar reincarnated. In his first 364 days in the Big Easy he'll join forces with the many colorful characters of the city to bring down the ad agency, swear allegiance to art and lead a revolt against capitalism at the height of Mardis Gras. A tale that is both hilarious and heartfelt, Ketchup Soup is the side-splitting story of one young man's journey through the nonconformists and dank back alleys of New Orleans.

Primitive-Rachel Moschell 2015-12 Thirteen-year-old Ivy Salvo thinks living in the South American country of Bolivia is exciting enough. She spends her time fighting off wild street dogs and sitting in school counseling sessions for using her karate skills on the annoying boys at school. But when she suddenly finds herself in another world with her brother and sister Ash and Rue, Ivy finds out what danger really is. Between dinosaurs that are supposed to be extinct and creepy aliens who might show up at any minute, Ivy finds herself in a version of Bolivia that is beyond her wildest dreams. At least she finds a friend in Tarben, a boy some call a prim, a primitive human. Time seems to be running out before the powerful aliens return as the prophecy foretold and destroy all the prims, including Tarben and his family.

With her knowledge from another world, can Ivy save this one, before it's too late?
