In the Heat of Battle-Donough O'Brien

2009-10-20 'In the heat of battle' is a phrase that connotes the extremity of the human condition. The battlefield is a canvas on which is sometimes painted the virtues of bravery, sacrifice, and extraordinary leadership--and which is sometimes the scene of disgrace. There are those like Ross McGinness who throw themselves onto a grenade to save the lives of their squadmates and those like William Calley who panic under the strain and unleash the My Lai massacre. Part of the perennial fascination with military literature is the question every armchair general asks him or her self--what kind of soldier would I be under pressure? In his new book, Donough O'Brien, author of Fame By Chance and Donough O'Brien's Little Book of Banana Skins: The Secrets of the Slip-Ups and Screw-Ups that Brought the Famous Down to Earth, turns his attention toward military matters. In the Heat of Battle is comprised of seventy-five 800-1000 word vignettes highlighting soldiers who rose to the occasion and those who didn't. O'Brien uses his master story-telling skills to create a lively and informative compendium of bravery and humiliation, from Julius Caesar to the present day. Chapters include: Sergeant James Graham who attacked the French at Hougoumont Farm during the Battle of Waterloo and was awarded for his courage by Wellington. Crassus, whose ill prepared assault on the Parthians, led to ignoble defeat and by removing the balance of power between Pompey and Caesar, to civil war. SS-Sturmführer Michael Wittman who blunted Montgomery's planned advance towards Caen during the Second World War, destroying 27 enemy vehicles, including 12 tanks, at Villers-Bocage despite being severely outgunned.

Rise to the Occasion-Brad Ross 2017-01-15 The story of a crisis of epic proportion and the lessons of leadership, innovation, motivation, and teamwork that effectively saved lives and the mine. Rise to the Occasion tells the dramatic story of the men and women who safely led Utah's 107-year-old Bingham Canyon Mine through the largest mining highwall failure in history. The Manefay failure resulted in 144.4 million tons of rock plummeting more than 2,000 feet and traveling 1.5 miles within 90 seconds—without a single death or injury. The story is told through the eyes of an insider, as the author was brought into the mine just six short weeks before the failure and was a key member of the management team. It's a Story Only He Can Tell. Illustrated with 160 full-color aerial and ground photos, charts, and illustrations, Rise to the Occasion details the unfolding events of the preparation, failure, and recovery efforts in moment-by-moment accounts. The author then leads the reader to valuable lessons that were learned and how to apply these lessons to any organization that faces risks. The reader will learn to manage a crisis or normal operations by:

- Understanding, measuring, and acting on the greatest risks facing the organization.
- Creating a culture, based on communication, that inspires dedication, trust, and success.
- Wearing a “Black Hat” to challenge thinking that can blind an organization.
- Setting “impossible” goals that will not only be met but exceeded.
- Breaking down silos to improve teamwork and solve problems.
- Reducing bureaucracy and empowering people to increase innovation and expedite solutions.
- Using independent experts to provide different points of view and audit the processes.

A Mantle of Roses-Virginia Swain 2004-08
Looking back on my life through the lens of consciousness into the development of my inner Voice, I found a speaking Presence that guided me to recount my story as a peacemaker, mediator and Reconciliation Leader. I offer my reflections for a post-September 11 world. Virginia Swain, from the Introduction: A Mantle of Roses: A Woman's Journey Home to Peace We have much to learn from each other about how we have traveled-and sometimes travailed-through our life journeys. Virginia Swain's story of her own development through time as a peacemaker and a compassionate human being will be inspiring and helpful to many. Her sense of calling is very strong and rightly guided. I have been very interested in how Virginia's innovative approach to leadership and peacebuilding in highly stressful conflicts has risen from her life journey. The Reconciliation Leadership Certificate ProgramT and Global Mediation and Reconciliation ServiceT are important contributions to the International Decade for a Culture of Peace and Nonviolence for the Children of the World (2001-2010). It also contributes to a significantly more multifaceted view of Norwegian and, indeed, European international migration by focusing attention on an East coast community that developed primarily through the irregular, often illegal immigration of merchant seamen.
