Confederate Casualties at Gettysburg-John W. Busey 2016-12-14 This reference book provides information on 24,000 Confederate soldiers killed, wounded, captured or missing at the Battle of Gettysburg. Casualties are listed by state and unit, in many cases with specifics regarding wounds, circumstances of casualty, military service, genealogy and physical descriptions. Detailed casualty statistics are given in tables for each company, battalion and regiment, along with brief organizational information for many units. Appendices cover Confederate and Union hospitals that treated Southern wounded and Federal prisons where captured Confederates were interned after the battle. Original burial locations are provided for many Confederate dead, along with a record of disinterments in 1871 and burial locations in three of the larger cemeteries where remains were reinterred. A complete name index is included.

Celebrating The 12 Days of Christmas-Chris Marchand 2019-10-10 The song "The 12 Days of Christmas" is a mainstay of the holiday season, but the practice of celebrating Christmas as a twelve-day festival fell out of fashion long ago in most cultures. In Celebrating the 12 Days of Christmas, author Chris Marchand explores the history behind the season and individual feast days from December 25 to January 6, and then offers suggestions for how you can celebrate it with your family, church, or community. Along with this, he provides answers to many of the nagging questions surrounding the holiday, such as the history behind the twelve-days song, why December 25 was chosen as the date, and what to do about its supposedly pagan origins. The challenge before us is to first help people see Christmas as a holiday that begins, rather than ends, on December 25, and then to together figure out how to reinvent Christmas in the present by learning how it was celebrated in the past.

Legal Executions in Delaware, the District of Columbia, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia-

Daniel Allen Hearn
2015-06-29 In the century following the Civil War, Delaware, the District of Columbia, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia legally executed hundreds of men and women convicted of capital crimes. Based on exhaustive research of court records, newspapers death certificates and even gravestones, this book provides the essential details of each case. Arranged by state, entries for each execution are listed in chronological order, giving the name, race and age of the prisoner and a description of the crime of which he or she was convicted. The motive, if known, the date and place of the execution, and relevant sources are also included. Appendices provide preliminary lists of executions in these states before 1866, including some cases dating back to the 17th century. A significant number of hitherto undiscovered executions, further reveals that America's experience with capital punishment is more extensive than previously known.

The Diaries of Bishop William Poynter, V.A. (1815-1824)-William Poynter 2006 William Poynter was born at Petersfield, Hampshire, England in 1762, and was sent to the English College at Douai, France, in 1775 to study for the priesthood. After receiving a doctorate in divinity, he returned to England to help establish a seminary for Catholic priests there. He was appointed vice-president, and, from 1802-1813, president of St. Edmund's College. He held important ecclesiastical offices, including titular Bishop of Halia (1802-1827), Coadjutor Vicar Apostolic of the London District (1802-1812), and Vicar Apostolic of the London District (1812-1827), one of four in England and Wales at the time. Poynter's surviving diaries date from 1815-1824, during his tenure as Vicar Apostolic, "when issues that were critical for the future of the Catholic Church in Britain had to be addressed." (P. 1).
